About the SPS

The Scottish Prison Service (SPS) is an Agency of the Scottish Government, working in partnership with organisations in the public, private and voluntary sectors to deliver safe and secure custodial services that empower offenders to take responsibility and to fulfil their potential. We employ approximately 4600 people in a diverse range of professions across our 16 prisons, College, Headquarters and Central Stores.

We need professional, capable and motivated individuals who reflect Scotland's diversity to deliver effective and efficient activities and services to help contribute to the Scottish Governments Vision for Justice. To do this, we need individuals who understand and share our Values as they are at the heart of every decision we make.

Whatever SPS career you embark upon, you will be a valued member of the team, helping us build a Safer Scotland for the communities we serve. We are committed to your personal and professional development and offer a wide range of career progression opportunities.

For further information, please visit our website: www.sps.gov.uk.

Our Equality, Diversity & Inclusion Commitment

SPS is committed to ensuring that everyone in SPS, and those who come into contact with the organisation, including prospective candidates and job applicants, are treated fairly, with dignity and respect for human rights. SPS is committed to advancing equality of opportunity in recruitment and selection, regardless of age, disability, race, religion or belief, marital or civil partnership status, pregnancy or maternity, gender reassignment, gender, sexual orientation or any other personal characteristic or status. In supporting this commitment, SPS operates name blind recruitment, where possible, throughout the recruitment process.

SPS recognises the benefits of employing individuals from a range of backgrounds, as this provides the widest pool of talent and creates a workforce where creativity and valuing the difference in others thrives. SPS values the wealth of experience within the communities in which it serves and encourages applications from candidates from a diverse range of backgrounds to meet SPS' aspiration of having a workforce which is reflective of the diversity of Scottish society. Where appropriate, SPS will use positive action in recruitment and selection to ensure the organisation meets its aspirations of a workforce which reflects the communities it serves.

SPS is committed to making reasonable adjustments for individuals with a disability at all stages in the recruitment process. The suitability of an individual with a disability for a post will be considered, taking into account any reasonable adjustments they would require in the post.

Below is the current Equality and Diversity networks staff can join:

Name Blind Recruitment

To ensure we support our commitment, our selection approach before the interview stage is managed anonymously, commonly referred to as 'name blind' recruitment. This means that your personal details will be removed from your application during the assessment process.

Disability Confident Scheme & Reasonable Adjustments

The SPS is a member of the disability confident scheme and under the terms of the scheme, all candidates who consider themselves to be disabled in terms of the Equality Act 2010¹, and who meet the essential minimum criteria for the post, will be progressed to the next stage of the assessment process.

We will also ensure that we consider and implement any reasonable adjustments you may require to participate in the selection process or during the course of your employment, should you be successful in securing a post. Please ensure that you notify us of any reasonable adjustments requests at the earliest possible opportunity to allow us to make the necessary arrangements.

Diversity Monitoring

The application process includes a diversity monitoring section and the information you provide here will be treated in strictest confidence and will be retained by HR for monitoring purposes. It will be kept separately from your application form and will not be made available to those involved in the selection decision.

Eligibility for Employment

As a Civil Service organisation, the SPS must ensure that we are employing people entitled to work in the UK and that our employees have the honesty, integrity and values needed for government-related work.

Eligibility for employment by the SPS will be checked at the initial stages of the recruitment process and verified prior to any formal offer of employment being made. In considering your eligibility to become a Civil Servant, nationality and criminal convictions rules apply.

Nationality Rules

The Civil Service Nationality Rules govern eligibility for employment in the Civil Service on the grounds of nationality and must therefore be followed by the SPS in our recruitment and appointment procedures.

In accordance with Civil Service Nationality Rules, from the 1st January 2021, the following groups will be able to work in the non-reserved posts within the Civil Service:

- UK nationals
- Nationals of Commonwealth countries

¹ The Equality Act 2010 states that a person has a disability if they have a physical or mental impairment and the impairment has a substantial and long-term adverse effect on their ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities. A 'substantial disadvantage' is a disadvantage which is more than minor or trivial. 'Long-term' means that the effect of the impairment has lasted or is likely to last for at least twelve months (there are special rules covering recurring conditions). Further guidance in relation to the meaning of disability is accessible on the Equality and Human Rights Commission website.

- Nationals of the Republic of Ireland
- European Economic Area (EEA) nationals with (or eligible for) status under the European Union Settlement Scheme
- Relevant EEA or Turkish nationals working in the Civil Service
- Relevant EEA or Turkish nationals who have built up the right to work in the Civil Service
- Certain family members of the relevant EU & Turkish nationals

There are certain very limited exceptions to the general prohibition on the employment of nationals from other countries. You can access the full Civil Service Nationality Rules here.

Criminal Convictions Rules

Under the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974 (Exclusions and Exceptions) (Scotland) Order 2003 (as amended), the SPS is listed as an exempted employment. The SPS is therefore entitled to request details of prospective candidates' relevant spent convictions (i.e. convictions that are not protected) during the recruitment and/or vetting process.

Successful candidates will be subject to an Enhanced Disclosure or Protecting Vulnerable Groups (PVG) check prior to an offer of employment being confirmed. Having a criminal record will not necessarily be a barrier to employment with the SPS and decisions will be made on a case-by-case basis taking all the available information into account.

Benefits & Support

SPS employees have access to a range of benefits and support, some of which are included below. Further information can be found on the SPS website.

Pension

SPS employees have access to a Civil Service Pension Scheme. For further information on the Civil Service pension, please visit the Civil Service pension's website.

If you already have a Civil Service pension, employment with SPS may alter your pension; a process known as 'abatement'. However, SPS will carry out checks in advance of any offer of employment to make sure you are informed if these rules affect you. Our Pay, Pensions and Relocation Team can also provide specific guidance, if required.

We are committed to nurturing and investing in our greatest strength and resource: our people.

Within SPS we support and encourage lifelong learning and we are invested in ensuring our staff continue to learn and develop, both personally and professionally at every stage of their career. We will invest in your development and create an environment that allows you to learn and apply new skills which can include development into management roles.

Annual Leave

The SPS has a generous annual leave allowance. The annual leave year runs from 1 February to 31 January.

Service	Entitlement
Years 1 to 5 inclusive	34 days
Year 6 onwards	42 days

Your annual leave entitlement includes 12 days public & privilege days, including St. Andrews day. Annual leave is calculated on a pro-rata basis for part time staff.

Hybrid Working

We recognise the importance of flexibility and personal choice when it comes to decisions on how, where and when work can be achieved. As such, our journey to hybrid working has already started with an initial focus on roles across Headquarters, SPS College and SPS Fauldhouse.

Hybrid working combines office-based working with home working, enabling in-person collaboration, teambuilding, as well as the opportunity for focused work at home. We won't specify how many days must be worked in the office but rather decisions will be reached by you and your manager, based on an understanding of business needs, expectations and a degree of personal choice. Where there is an absolute requirement for roles, or duties within a role, to be performed in a specific workplace, or a location, there may be very limited opportunity to engage with hybrid working.

Competencies for Success Framework

The Competencies for Success Framework (CSF) outlines the behavioural competencies that are essential to support effective performance in all roles in SPS.

The Framework forms the basis of our people management processes and provides a common language for how we go about our daily work; it does not describe what we do in each of our roles, but how we do it. It helps us assess, manage and improve performance aligned to our personal goals and organisational objectives.

The Framework is underpinned by the SPS core values, recognising the integral connection between our personal values and our behaviours. Fundamentally, our values influence the decisions we make and the actions we take and therefore impact how we behave. It is recognised that a strong alignment between personal values and organisational values will support SPS achieve its Vision which is why they are so important to us in defining and describing how we will perform our roles.

The Framework outlines eight core behavioural competencies, which apply consistently to all roles, regardless of the nature, context or level. This ensures there is one transparent set of standards, which we will all work to, regardless of the job we do. This helps us understand what is expected of us, as well as what we can expect from each other. In addition to defining each of the eight behavioural competencies, the Framework describes what each competency looks like in practice, and includes development questions to support self-reflection and development activities.

The person specification for the role you are applying for will outline a maximum of 4 behaviours from the CSF that you will be assessed against during the recruitment and selection process. It is important to remember that all of the behaviours outlined in the CSF are relevant to all roles within the SPS, however for the purpose of recruitment and selection a maximum of 4 will be assessed.
